MONTPELIER

The many friends of George Hayward, the ninety-two year old veteran, will be pained to learn he has suffered a shock and is in a critical condition at his rooms in the Tomassi block.

The funeral of Allen D. Moore occurred at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his late home on Fullerton avenue. Rev. Edward Wright, of the Unitarian church officiated. The funeral was attended by many from out of town. The bearers were selected from among the relatives. They were Theron Moore and H. S. Parks of Plainfield; F. E. Chase of Concord, N. H., and Orris Harris of this city. The body was placed in the mortuary at Green Mount cemetery.

Judge John Watson of the supreme court, filed docket entry with Clerk M. E. Snell yesterday in the case of Central Vermont railway vs. Town of Hartford in which "decree is reversed pro forma, and cause remanded." The opinion, and decision also have been sent to the court reporter J. W. Redmond, of Newbury. This is the case over the elimination of a grade crossing at White River Junction in which the railway company claimed the highway at that point is public while the railroad commissioners decided it was a private highway and therefore the railway company should pay 10 per cent. generally paid by the town on similar cases. From this decision the railway company took an appeal to the supreme court. The case was argued at the last term of court.
